TRANSACTIONS

of the

ILLUMINATING ENGINEERING SOCIETY

Volume 27 (Nos. 1-4) 1962

CONTENTS

	Page
Presidential Address: The Society's Contribution to Lighting Technology, by W. T. Souter	1
The Development of the IES Glare Index System	9
The Determination of the Minimum Identifiable Glare Sensation Interval Using a Pair-Comparison Method, by Wendy M. Collins	27
Changes in the Dimensions of Incandescent Filament Lamps, by A. G. Penny	37
Standard Heat Test Lamps for the Temperature Testing of Lighting Fittings, by J. N. Bowtell and J. R. Coaton	41
Temperatures and Temperature Variability in Lighting Fittings for Filament Lamps, by Joan Keen and H. F. Stephenson	45
Discussion on papers on Dimensions of Filament Lamps, Heat Test Lamps and Temperature Variability	67
Lighting for Inspection, by H. E. Bellchambers and S. M. Phillipson	71
The Practical Application of the IES Code	88
Practical Photometry of Lighting Fittings, by D. Wilman	101
The Role of Models and Artificial Skies in Daylighting Design, by J. Longmore	121
Floodlighting of Pedestrian Crossings, by R. G. Giovanelli, W. R. Blevin and K. R. Wright	139
The IES Code Glare Assessment and Super-Additivity, by H. D. Einhorn	143
The Role of Lighting in the Search for Better Interiors: Some Problems, by J. K. Page	153
The Role of Lighting in the Search for Better Interiors: Some Techniques, by D. W. Durrant	170
The Role of Lighting in the Search for Better Interiors: Some Solutions, by J. Reid	186
Technical Discussion Sessions at the 1962 Summer Meeting	207
John W. T. Walsh, President 1929–30 and 1947–48	214
